Purpose: Lifelong learning

- For teaching professionals (from education and therapy fields) to work on a conductive way in a conductive team.
- In connection with standards of competencies well defined.

Training spirit:

- Opening ways for conductive self-development and responsibility.
- To think his own professional practice in reference to CE principles in a suitable way (context).
- Keeping a searching and progressing attitude.
- Working in transdisciplinarity and keeping an open-mind: learning from the others, and learning all together in reference to CE principles.
- Translating his own disciplinary competencies in a conductive way: how to share his competencies with other team members.
- Team spirit.

In collaboration with:

- ABPC (Belgian Association of CE)
- CREA-Helb (Lifelong learning department of a local High School for physiotherapists, occupational therapists, nurses, ...).
- all places using CE in the "Plateforme France-Belgium" for the practical part

Questions for the future of CE and training in our country:

Integrating an international network?

- *To know and adjust each other actual practices and plan for training taking account of the different contexts.
- *To take part step by step in an international training network for certificated professionals involved in a lifelong learning process, including Conductors, and students conductors.
- *To obtain an official certification
